Cube joins the club of leading European infrastructure funds

Following another fund-raising exercise closed on July 1, 2010, the Cube Infrastructure fund, managed by Natixis Environnement & Infrastructures Luxembourg, lifted total capital invested in the fund to €1.08 billion, in excess of its €1 billion initial target.

Cube invests in brownfield infrastructures in the transport, energy, environment and telecom sectors in Europe.

Cube invests on behalf of institutional investor shareholders from nine countries, namely Canada, the USA, Germany, the UK, Italy, Portugal, Switzerland, Denmark and France. Investors are pension funds, insurers, banks and a fund of funds.

At this stage, Cube has invested in Fotosolarium (photovoltaic energy in Spain), Islalink (telecoms infrastructure in Spain), CNIM DEV (waste-to-energy generation in the UK), Saur (water and waste management in France), Boralex Europe (wind energy) and Eurotunnel.
